Toronto Regional Real Estate Board 100th Anniversary Celebrations

November 29, 2020

Greetings from the Minister

On behalf of Premier Ford and the Government of Ontario, I am delighted to offer my warm wishes to the Toronto Regional Real Estate Board as you mark your impressive 100th anniversary. I also extend greetings to all attendees, especially those who have travelled a long distance to attend the celebration.

The Ministry of Government and Consumer Services recognizes the power of the real estate sector to drive our great province's economy. And, as minister, I understand that your work as the voice of the Greater Toronto Area's residential and commercial real estate practitioners is essential to shaping and upholding the quality standards for which the region's industry is known.

My ministry and I commend the commitment of the board of directors, members and staff, to helping the people of Ontario realize their dreams of home ownership — and to educating and empowering them to make informed purchases.

As our government moves ahead with modernizing the province's real estate legislation, I look forward to continued collaboration with you to put Ontario on the forefront of real estate innovation and expertise.

Congratulations — and here's to another 100 years!

The Honourable Lisa Thompson
Minister of Government and Consumer Services
